of the University of Pennsylvania*

The Rena Rowan Ribbon Run will benefit the Rena Rowan Breast Center at the Abramson Cancer Center of the University of Pennsylvania. The Rowan Center is a model of patient care excellence where all clinical services a woman facing breast cancer may need are located in one convenient location; including integrated cancer treatments, psychosocial counseling, cancer risk evaluation, and nutritional counseling. As you are aware, the medical needs of patients with breast cancer may exceed what is covered by traditional health plans. The funds raised at the Ribbon Run will help to assist patients receive the services that insurance does not cover and they cannot afford. The Panhellenic Council over the last seven years has raised over $55,000 to support our patients and their families. We are looking forward to the most successful run yet!
