

Panhellenic Council

The University of Pennsylvania's Panhellenic Council is the largest women's organization on campus.

It brings together approximately 1,000 women from eight different chapters, committed to community service, scholastic achievement, women's issues, personal and career development, and the bonds of sisterhood and friendship.

The 10th Annual Rena Rowan 5K Ribbon Run

For the Rena Rowan
Breast Center at the Abramson Cancer Center

October 4th, 2009

Registration: 10am
Race Begins: 12pm

At the Compass
(37th and Locust)

The center's emphasis on service includes these distinctive features:

- Services provided in a single location including medical, surgical, and radiation oncology services, plastic surgery consultations, and chemotherapy.
- Oncologists who are full-time faculty of the University of Pennsylvania and whose practice is exclusive to breast cancer.
- Dedicated breast radiologists and pathologists who work with the breast team to achieve a precise diagnosis.
- Nationally recognized breast research programs.
- Rehabilitation specialists to help with cancer-related physical exercise and movement programs, including lymphedema,
- Complementary support services for patients and families including psychosocial counseling and nutrition.

The Rena Rowan Ribbon Run will benefit the Rena Rowan Breast Center, a part of the University of Pennsylvania Abramson Cancer Center. The Center brings together nationally prominent specialists from every discipline into a single practice setting. The interdisciplinary team concept ensures that each patient benefits from the constant collaboration of experts and the added convenience of receiving this comprehensive care in one location.
